

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: April 22, 2009

Raymon Grace Foundation Awards Grant to Theodore Roosevelt Elementary School

KINGSPORT, TN Students participating in Theodore Roosevelt Elementary School's Earth Day Field Day received prizes courtesy of The Raymon Grace Foundation.

The student who correctly guessed the number of recyclable aluminum tabs in a jar won a Red Maple tree to be planted at the school. All the students in that class received maple or cherry seedlings to plant at home. The cherry seedlings came from a 100-year-old cherry tree and served as an example of conservation and reinforced the idea that planting a tree is a gift that lasts generations.

Roosevelt's Earth Day Field Day was held to assist teachers in demonstrating the importance of trees in a healthy ecosystem, highlighting their roles in cleaning the air, preventing soil erosion and beautifying the world.

"We were proud to help Roosevelt with this donation," Raymon Grace, founder of the Raymon Grace Foundation, said. "We only have one world, and it is important for us to nurture it and to encourage everyone, regardless of age, to help protect it."

The Raymon Grace Foundation is a 501 (c) 3 corporation. It focuses on projects that concern clean water, water conservation, providing potable water and watershed preservation. The Foundation also considers projects that relate to the founder's belief that no problem can truly be solved so long as one person is causing harm to another.

David Grace

david@raymongracefoundation.org

www.raymongracefoundation.org

The Raymon Grace Foundation is a 501 (c) private foundation created to further the work of Raymon Grace.